Finding Serenity in School Leadership

We are devoted educators because we value the privilege to improve the lives of others and to make our community and the entire world better.

We work at it, rising early and sometimes staying late, doing what has to be done not out of drudgery or obligation but from a devotion to our craft and the ones we serve.

We recognize the temptation to drop our heads and commiserate with others about the heavy workload and relentless demands, but we inspire intelligence and wisdom, lift up the lost and defeated, and make learning a pathway to a fulfilling life.

Remember that your influence shapes hearts and minds, my friend, so make this work a legacy of which you can be proud.

Love'em and Lead'em!
